Pursuant to Section 105.1 of the International Building Code and Chapter 4 of the International Residential Code, the accompanying permit has been issued for construction of footing and foundation only.

The permit holder shall proceed at their own risk without assurance that structural permits will be granted.

The permit holder shall proceed at their own risk, and with full knowledge that review of the structural plans associated may require alteration to the footing and foundation. In such a case it is the responsibility of the permit holder to remove/alter the footings and foundations as required by the approved plans and/or as directed by the Building Official.

The accompanying permit authorizes construction of footings and foundation only. Work carried beyond the footing and foundation will be in violation of the City of Selah Building Code Ordinances and subject to enforcement actions under said ordinances, including investigation fees and issuance of stop work orders.

The above information has been read and acknowledge. It is understood that the accompanying permit is limited to footings and foundation only and that no work shall be done other than the footings and foundation under the terms of issuance.
